

DANGEROUSLY HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Two Lexington girls were injured, one probably fatally so, near Frenchburg Sunday morning when the rear tire of the automobile in which they were riding blew out, causing the machine to leave the road, going into a ditch and turning over. The girls were Miss Bessie Stolls and Miss Bobby Rowe, of Grant street, Lexington, who in company with H. O. Williams and Jimmy Rose, both of Lexington, left Lexington about 2:30 o'clock for Frenchburg, near which place the accident occurred. The machine, owned by the Tip Top Taxi Company, was driven by Chauffeur Jimmy Rose, who claims that he was going at a moderate rate of speed when the tire blew out rounding a curve. This party was joined at Rothwell by Fred Amos, who was to direct them through the mountains to their destination. His injuries were slight.

The young women were brought to the Mary Chiles Hospital in this city, where Miss Stolls lies in a critical condition. Miss Rowe's injuries were slight and she has returned to her home. The two men were not injured but the car was badly damaged.

J. E. CARMICHAEL DEAD

J. E. Carmichael, aged 69 years, died on Thursday, September 28, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Virgil Cassity, at Weston, Mo., where he had been visiting since June 1. Prior to this visit he had been living with his children in Kentucky since the death of his wife about 13 years ago. He is survived by ten children. He became a member of the Methodist church many years ago. His body arrived in this city on Saturday and burial service was conducted Sunday morning in this city by B. W. Trimble. Since Mr. Carmichael was 12 years old he had lived in Montgomery and Bath counties.

GEORGIA COTTON BLOSSOM

Dan Holt, for the past ten years associated in big time vaudeville, formerly of Al G. Fields and Coburns, has this year returned to his former position as character and principal comedian with Joe Coburn's minstrels. Dan is from Macon, Ga., from which fact his title of The Georgia Cotton Blossom was given him by hosts of friends in the southland. At the death of Lew Baldwin of Coburn and Baldwin musical comedians, Dan did a musical specialty with Manager Coburn afterward assuming the position of principal funmaker with the company. He is also a capable banjoist and will be seen with Coburn's minstrels this season in various roles of darkey humor, of which he is a past master. He will appear at the Tabb Theatre with Coburn's Monday, October 9, matinee and night.

CYNTHIANA PLAYS HERE TOMORROW

The last regular scheduled game of the Blue Grass League will be played with Cynthiana at the local park tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Lexington team has disbanded on account of a disagreement over salary with the management and the two games scheduled with this club for yesterday and today were forfeited to Mt. Sterling, 9 to 0. Mt. Sterling yet has four postponed games, two with Maysville and one each with Paris and Cynthiana, all scheduled to be played on the local lot. It is not known whether these games will be played or not, but if they are Mt. Sterling still has a chance to win the pennant, as Cynthiana and Paris have both lost their last three games. It is understood Manager Eller will meet President Russell in Maysville today, when a definite arrangement will be made in regard to all postponed games. President Russell is said to object to any postponed games being played after the close of the season, which is tomorrow.

Yesterday's Results
Mt. Sterling, 9; Lexington, 0. (Forfeited).
Winchester, 7; Paris, 6.
Maysville, 12; Cynthiana, 6.

Friday's Game

On this day the Essex journeyed to Cynthiana, where they were taken into camp by the score of 3 to 1, the locals' lone tally coming in the eighth inning. Eller pitched for Mt. Sterling and twirled a splendid game and but for errors in the seventh inning by Blake and Graefter the count would have been 1 to 1. The features of the game were the superb fielding of the Cynthiana outfield and the inability of the local players to hit when hits meant runs. The box score follows:

Sterling, both men and women.

JANE REVERE WINS FUTURITY

Frank H. Ellis' filly, Jane Revere, won the thirty-first renewal of the two-year-old division of the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington yesterday. Her second heat in 2:06½ is the best of the season for a two-year-old trotter. Peter Flash, owned and driven by Poyntz Bean, of this city, finished ninth and sixth, respectively. The Senator was second in the event. The Walnut Hall Cup was won by The Great Volo, after losing the first heat to Peter the Brewer. The fastest time was 2:03½. An immense crowd was in attendance for the opening of the meeting, which is the 50th consecutive meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, and the meeting this year is known as the Golden Jubilee meeting, and is expected to eclipse all former trotting horse meetings held in America. Large numbers of lovers of the harness horse are attending from Mt. Sterling each day. The three-year-old Futurity is the feature of today's program.
